Dana MacGrath is a leading independent arbitrator with over two decades worth of experience in international arbitration disputes. Before launching her independent practice as an arbitrator, Dana gained unparalleled experience in international arbitration in the arbitration teams at several leading global law firms and in-house on arbitration finance.

She is experienced in energy, oil & gas disputes including disputes relating to LNG price reviews, as well as construction, finance, telecommunications, intellectual property, sale of goods, life sciences, shareholder disputes, and international investments. Dana has been involved in high stakes cases under common and civil law in matters administered by the AAA/ICDR, ICC, JAMS, ICSID, LCIA, as well as ad hoc arbitrations.

Dana has also been instrumental in developing international arbitration and has given her time generously to several successful organisations. She serves on the AAA-ICDR Council and co-chairs its Large Complex Case Committee (LCC Committee). She is also active with the American Bar Association (ABA) and co-chaired the International Committee of the Dispute Resolution Section (2023-2025). She was on a task force for the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators that developed a Guideline for Third Party Funding. She is on the Rules Revision Committee of the CPR Institute. She served as President of ArbitralWomen (1 July 2018 - 30 June 2022) and serves on the Steering Committee for Equal Representation in Arbitration Pledge (Arbitration Pledge). Additionally, she is on the Advisory Board of the Rising Arbitrators Initiative (RAI) and the North American Committee for the Campaign for Greener Arbitration. Over the years, Dana has been recognised as a leader in international arbitration in various directories including Chambers USA and Who's Who Legal (GAR / Lexology). In addition to her arbitrator practice, Dana has served as an Adjunct Professor of Law at Fordham Law School and Brooklyn Law School teaching international commercial arbitration. She is based in New York and is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators.
